Blended Intensive Programme (BIP)
LIVING, INQUIRING AND KNOWING:
OUTDOOR PRACTICES FOR SUSTAINABILITY
June 1st to July 10th 2026

In today's world, connection to 'others' (human and more than human) is paramount. Enabling different ways of knowing, feeling, perceiving, and connecting with 'others', in the realm of the multispecies communities we live in, is consequently a key for a sustainable future.

This BIP proposes immersive and transformative experiences in the landscape and in the hardscape, as hubs for learning and research. Through theoretical backgrounds, immersive experiences, analysis and discussions of Real-World case studies, participants will develop the perception of their roles in embracing sustainability in their daily lives as global citizens, regardless of their different backgrounds and professional roles within society.

Three phases define this BIP:

- i) online classes on the basic theoretical concepts and background practices related to sustainability competences and outdoor experiential research-based learning;
- ii) in-person immersive and participatory experiences involving different methods of inquiry;
- iii) autonomous inter/transdisciplinary outdoor project, done individually or in a group (with online tutorial support), contributing to the expected transformative process, followed by discussion and assessment.

The BIP is organized into 4 modules:

Module 1 | Online, June 1st to 12th
EDUCATION FOR SUSTAINABILITY IN OUTDOOR CONTEXTS

Module 2 | In-Person, June 14th to 19th (Gavle, Sweden)
OUTDOOR IMMERSIVE EXPERIENCES

Module 3 | Online, June 22th to July 3th
TRANSFORMATIVE LEARNING EXPERIENCES

Module 4 | Online, July 6th to 10st
OUTDOOR RESEARCH IN ACTION: ENVISIONING THE FUTURE

Learning outcomes

Students are expected to be able to:

Know about the theoretical and practical basis of Outdoor transformative learning and Place making pedagogy and research;

Embody sustainability and its values including supporting fairness and cultural significance, and promoting nature and wellbeing through outdoor experiences;

Embrace complexity using systems thinking, critical thinking, creativity and problem framing to envision sustainable futures;

Adopt a relational way of thinking, considering the connections between humans and more than humans by exploring and linking different disciplines (also in a creative way).

Collaborate with other individuals by designing common goals and negotiating actions to support life in all its dimensions, including the other than human;

Engage in verbal and non-verbal communication that demonstrates interest, empathy, mutuality, paying attention, bonding and caring in a multispecies community.

Design relevant and viable eco-social projects, engaging inclusive (both collective and individual) initiatives using different languages and media to support and develop transformative learning.
